And Then It Rained
Of Dancing and Dogs
Men Would Be Free

The time element sooner or later traps every editorial writer. If caught up with me in yesterday's edition.

At the moment of writing that column, the night before, Hempstead county was still in the grip of the drought. But Wednesday morning we caught a 1.43-inch rain — and the editorial was already gone.

However, I'll stand pat on it as printed. We are thankful for every inch of rainfall, but still it doesn't make sense for a country as full of rivers as ours is to live in constant fear of drought and not try to do something about it.

It costs infinitely more to rehabilitate the Western desert than to bolster up the naturally productive lands of the South and Middle West — and we ought to push vigorously for a long-range program of reservoirs and distribution aqueducts or pipelines to make our annual rainfall available to the land throughout the hot months.

I think you can measure the age and progressiveness of a country by the degree to which it has developed its river resources. And by this yardstick the United States is still an infant nation.

The fact is, we look on the water problem with the same slack attitude of the householder whose roof leaked. When it was raining, he couldn't fix it, and when it wasn't raining it didn't need fixing.

Saw "Bloodhounds of Broadway" again Wednesday night at the Sanger, after a first look last November in Little Rock. For my money it's still one of the best musicals in years. Damon Runyon's faded characters hold you fascinated — plus the dancing of Milzi Gaynor — plus a couple of sure-enough bloodhounds . . . who followed a Broadway toughie around town because he was always dosing himself up with pills and they liked pills because they felt bad too.

I like William Feather, the writer for trade publications, because he often describes world problems in the simplest language. For instance, if you are looking for a definition of the difference between our Western thinking and the thinking of the Communists try this paragraph from Imperial Type Metal magazine:

"Freedom of choice may be restricted by natural laws, by economic laws, or by a combination of circumstances that, at the moment, we are powerless to alter. But we must not be compelled to obey man-made laws which we have had no voice in making. Nor shall we be forced by other men to accept jobs we are not free to relinquish. We may be slaves of economic forces, but we shall not be slaves of men."

Profits Tax Meets More Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Reed (R-N) and two other Republicans charged today the House Ways and Means Committee is "following blindly an order from the executive branch of government" in supporting a continued excess profits tax.

"We deplore relegating the great committee on ways and means to the status of a rubber stamp," Reed and Reps. Jenkins (R-Ohio) and Mason (R-Ill.) said in a report to the full House.

They said too "there are signs that a recession is in the offing" and declared that continuing the tax would "gamble with the economic welfare and security of the country."

The committee yesterday voted 16 to 9 to approve President Eisenhower's proposal to extend the excess profits tax for six months, to Jan. 1.

"The vote was a resounding victory for the administration over Reed and other rebels in the President's own party, who had blocked action on the tax extension for weeks."

Taft's Health to Bar All Politics

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senate Republicans today faced up to the unhappy realization that they will have to get along indefinitely without the valued leadership of Sen. Robert A. Taft.

They said the "exploratory" abdominal operation which the 65-year-old Ohio Republican underwent yesterday while he was in New York hospital yesterday, was doubtless his last illness, completely for the rest of the current congressional session, and perhaps longer.

Although his painful hip ailment forced him to give up active leadership on June 10, Taft has until now retained a powerful voice in backstage GOP councils. His advice has frequently been sought, and received, by President Eisenhower as well as members of his party in the Senate.

Hope Hospital Group Refuses $50,000 Offer

LITTLE ROCK — The state yesterday offered to allocate $50,000 to a Hempstead County hospital, but a delegation from Hope turned down the offer until a $300,000 bond issue is approved.

The money would be allocated from federal hospital funds set aside for Arkansas.

At the present time, most of the funds have been earmarked for the University of Arkansas Medical Center and St. Vincent's Infirmary in Little Rock.

The $50,000 offer was made to the delegation at a meeting in the governor's office yesterday.

Gov. Cherry said decision to allocate the money to the county hospital was made by the State Hospitals Advisory Committee Monday. He said officials of the University Infirmary agreed to give $25,000 each from the money which their organizations would receive in federal grants.

Herschel H. Friday, Jr., bond attorney for the Hempstead County Hospital Committee, said that a $300,000 bond issue approved by voters in 1950, could not be approved for sale because "the size and specifications of the hospital have been radically changed since the election."

Uneasy Peace Returns to East Berlin

BERLIN (UP) — An uneasy peace returned to East Berlin today.

East-West traffic moved normally, housewives shopped on streets where three weeks ago Tommy guns barked, and most of 100,000 striking workers returned to their jobs.

The strikers virtually had paralyzed industry throughout East Berlin and the entire Russian zone yesterday in support of their demands for the release of thousands of anti-Communists imprisoned for taking part in the June 17 rebellion against Soviet rule.

East German Premier Otto Grotewohl's press office announced last night that the "overwhelming majority" of persons arrested in connection with the revolt had been released. Today the strikers' demands met, began drifting back to work.

West Berlin Police President Johannes Stumm said every large East Berlin factory had been affected by yesterday's sitdown demonstrations.

Reliable reports received by the Western Allies said "tens of thousands" of others were striking throughout the remainder of the Russian zone in coal fields, steel factories, shipyards and plants in large and small. Altogether hundreds of factories were hit.

Stassen Says Foreign Aid Must Continue

WASHINGTON (UP) — Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen told senators today he feels the United States will have to continue some sort of foreign aid program for 10 years.

Stassen, testifying before the appropriations committee in behalf of a five billion dollar money bill for foreign aid in the current fiscal year, said he thinks the Soviet Russian threat will last a decade.

Throughout that period, he said, it is his view this country will have to give military help to at least some of its free world allies. Economic aid probably can be closed out sooner, he said.

Stassen cited Turkey and Formosa as two nations close to the Communist perimeter which must have some military aid as long as the Soviet threat endures.

The MSA head emphasized, however, that it is up to Congress each year to decide whether the help should be continued.

The Senate in acting on a foreign aid authorization bill, has voted to close down MSA June 30, 1955 with a final deadline of 1956 on economic aid spending and 1957 on military outlays.

The House voted to let MSA die as scheduled in the present law in mid-1954, with a 1956 expiration date on spending for both economic and military items in the pipeline.

More than 99 per cent of all Communist farms are electrified. Termites are blind.

New Pastor

The Rev. Edmund Pendleton, native of North Little Rock, is new pastor of the First Christian Church of Hope.

Mr. Pendleton received his education at Phillips University and has just completed graduate work at Enid, Okla. He has served pastorates at several Oklahoma points including Lamont, 2½ years; Bristol, 3 years; and Red Rock a year each and served one year at neighboring Prescott.

The Rev. Mr. Pendleton and family, including wife, Mary Louise and three sons, Dennis, Eddie and David, have already moved here.

Three Bloody Red Attacks Are Smashed

SEoul (UP) — American infantrymen crushed three bloody Communist assaults today but failed in a daring counterattack with flamethrowers to burn the last Reds off Pork Chop Hill in Western Korea.

Tough South Korean troops braved rockets, believed to be Russian-type "katushas," in smashing a fourth Red attack at Arrowhead Ridge five miles from Porkchop.

The Korean battlefield crackedled with artillery barrages and hand-to-hand fighting as U. S. units for the first time in weeks caught the brunt of the Red charges.

The doughboys hammered back 3,000 to 5,000 Chinese who Wednesday night slammed into U. S.-held positions at outpost Berlin and East Gerlin in the Far West Kim Ji Sung Ridge in the east and Porkchop Hill.

SEoul (UP) — American infantrymen hammered back three savage Communist attacks today and South Koreans smashed a fourth as much of the Korean battlefield cricked with thunderous artillery barrages and bloody hand-to-hand combat.

For the first time in weeks, the Reds threw their heaviest assaults at U. S. units Wednesday night. They were stopped cold, with heavy losses, by dawn in the most fierce fighting since the Reds' Pukhan River drive two weeks ago, which was aimed at the South Koreans.

From 4,000 to 6,000 Chinese claimed recklessly into four key Allied positions across the front: twin Outposts Berlin and East Berlin in the West near Panmunjom, site of the truce talks; Porkchop Hill and South Korean-held Arrowhead Ridge on the West Central Front, and Kim Ji Sung Ridge, in the East.

The U. S. Eighth Army said more than 1,200 Reds were killed and wounded in terrific artillery duels and close quarter fighting — some of it hand-to-hand with gun butts and knives.

U. N. casualties were not disclosed.

Big 3 Foreign Ministers Go Into Huddle

WASHINGTON — The foreign ministers of Britain and France are due here today to join with Secretary of State Dulles in mapping Allied strategy for dealing with the Soviet peace offensive in half a dozen trouble spots around the globe.

The Marquis of Salisbury, acting British foreign secretary, was scheduled to arrive before noon and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault was due at 1:05 p. m. Dulles arranged to meet both men at the airport.

U. S. officials said the Big Three talks opening tomorrow and running through Tuesday should result in a new and better understanding of their common problems.

Dulles was understood to be interested in urging the new government of France, headed by Joseph Laniel, to speed ratification of the European Defense Community, which would permit West Germany to arm.

Also, he is likely to press the British for an early solution of their difficulties with Egypt, a step which would clear the way for creation of the Middle East defense organization.

Negotiators to Try for Final Peace Details

By SAM SUMMERLIN

SEoul (UP) — Allied and Communist negotiators return to Panmunjom in a few hours to resume negotiations on final details of a Korean armistice which South Korea has bitterly assailed and said it will not recognize.

The U. N. Command said full-scale truce talks — recessed on June 20 — will get underway at 11 a. m. tomorrow (u. p. m. CST today).

The meeting presumably was arranged during a 15-minute UNISON officers' session at Panmunjom today. But the official U. N. spokesman refused to say more than that the meeting was held "for administrative purposes only."

Announcement that the truce talks would resume came a few hours after a top-level U. N. delegation headed by Gen. Mark Clark, UN commander in chief, arrived. They apparently failed.

A highly-placed South Korean source said Rhee still is holding out despite U. S. offers of a military security pact, "substantial" economic aid and equipping and training of four more divisions for the 16-division South Korean army.

The source told Associated Press Correspondent Bill Shinn that Rhee still is insisting that his country "must have from America concrete assurance that Korea will be unified" — peacefully or by force. He added that the 15-day talks between Rhee and President Eisenhower's special truce envoy are deadlocked.

Rain Comes to Sections of Nation

By The Associated Press

The nation's weather-showered like change today — warm and humid over most of the South, cool in the mid-continent and around normal in other areas.

There were several areas hit by showers, including the Central Plains, Southern Plateau region, Northern Great Lakes and along the North Atlantic Seaboard.

Dust storms were reported in sections of the Texas Panhandle. Gusts winds as high as 61 miles an hour were reported at Amarillo and blowing dust reduced visibility at times to one-quarter of a mile.

Temperatures around 100 were general again yesterday in drought-stricken Texas.

Temperatures continued above normal over most of the Western plateau region but were a little lower than in the past several days.

DALLAS, Tex., (UP) — Scattered showers pelted parts of the bonny Southwest drought belt today as initial shipments of grain were hurried to the area to save straggling cattle.

Meanwhile, governors of five southwestern states prepared to meet in Amarillo, Tex., tomorrow to discuss the drought situation, and a new livestock association seeking federal price supports for cattle, was to be formally organized at Dalhart, Tex.

The rains which fell yesterday and today over parts of Oklahoma and Texas were spotty, and only one area received adequate moisture to help crops for the present.

Up to two inches of rain fell at O'Donnell in Lynn County, Tex., and neighboring Dawson County received heavy showers measured at more than an inch and a half. The two counties in West Texas are in the heart of the drought area.

The rains sent farmers scurrying to town to buy sorghum grain seeds to plant in soil that has been too dry for germination.

Newspaperman May Be Deported

CHICAGO (UP) — A deportation order was issued yesterday against Jacob Burck, Pulitzer Prize-winning editorial cartoonist for the Chicago Sun-Times, on grounds he was a member of the Communist party when he last entered the United States in 1936.

An appeal from the order by Jerome T. McGowan, immigration department hearing officer, is being planned by Burck's attorney, William H. King Jr. Burck has 10 days in which to appeal the order to the immigration service's Board of Appeals in Washington.

Burck, whose syndicated cartoons appear in some 35 daily newspapers, denied he ever was a member of the Communist party. He first entered the United States 38 years ago, when he was 10 years old, from his native Poland. He last entered in 1936 after a trip to Moscow.

Cotton Farmers Asked to List 3-Year Acreage

According to information received by H. B. Gilbert, Chairman of the Hempstead County FMA Committee, a survey is to be conducted in Hempstead county starting immediately to obtain planted acreage on all farms in the county on which cotton was planted in 1951, 1952 and 1953. All 1953 planted cotton acreage will be measured, Mr. Gilbert said.

This survey has been ordered by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture in anticipation of obtaining farm data for determination of probable acreage allotments for 1954, according to Mr. Gilbert.

In the event producers are not in Hope in the near future they are urged to supply the county office with the above information by letter which is being mailed to all farmers in the county this week.

News Briefs

NEW YORK (UP) — The Texas Co. announced today discovery of a new oil area in Andrews County, West Texas, with completion of its Parker No. 1-11 from two zones in the Wolfcamp limestone.

NEW YORK (UP) — The nation's 20 major oil companies invested almost $1,000,000,000 more than they made last year in an industry publication said today.

While aggregate net earnings of these 20 firms totaled $190,000,000, their combined capital expenditures came to $200,000,000 according to national petroleum news.

In addition, these companies paid more than $1,200,000,000 in taxes. This excludes the $240,000,000 collected from the public through taxes on products and turned over to state and federal agencies.

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Randall Williams, a Monticello attorney, has been named assistant director of the motor fuels tax division of the State Revenue Department.

Williams' appointment was announced yesterday by State Revenue Commissioner Horace Thompson. Williams will resign his post as deputy prosecutor of Drew County.

Thompson also announced that Rayford Hudson, Little Rock, had been hired as an auditor to work in the timber severance tax unit at a salary of $3,000 a year.

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — State Adjutant General Lucien Abraham Fayetteville, has been formally recognized as a brigadier general in the National Guard.

Gov. Francis Cherry yesterday said he had received formal notification of Gen. Abraham's status from Maj. Gen. Edgar C. Erickson, chief of the National Guard bureau.

Gen. Abraham held the rank of colonel when he was appointed as state adjutant general by former Governor Sid McMath at Gov. Cherry's request last December. Abraham succeeded Brig. Gen. John D. Morris, a McMath appointee.

HELENA (UP) — Jackie Stuckert, Miss Helena of 1952, was en route to Long Beach, Calif., today to represent Arkansas in the Miss Universe of 1953 contest.

Miss Stuckert was selected from 20 contestants in competition last week at Jonesboro.

The Helena beauty will compete with 80 girls from 28 nations and the other 47 states for prizes and movie contracts in the Miss Universe and Miss United States contests.

The contests will be held today through July 13.

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The Arkansas Legislative Council was to meet today to discuss state printing contracts and a job classification study for state employees.

The 1953 fiscal code provides that the state finance director shall award state printing contracts but a recent opinion by the state attorney general held this to be unconstitutional. Marcus Halbrook council director, said the group must make a decision on how to handle such contracts.

Halbrook said the job classification study would insure that employees doing the same work would get the same rate of pay.

47 Arkansas Counties, Including Hempstead, on Emergency Aid List

Lafayette Oil Case Before High Court

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — An appeal which may determine whether the state gets a cut of the profits from oil production in a Lafayette County field was filed in the Arkansas Supreme Court today.

In two cases former Revenue Commissioner Dean Morely issued oil and gas leases for tracts in Spirit Lake, an arm of the Red River.

Morely acted on the theory that Spirit Lake was a navigable body of water and therefore is controlled by the state.

In each instance, individuals claiming ownership of the land filed suit in Lafayette County Court to void the state's leases.

The Chancery Court consolidated the cases for trial and held that Spirit Lake was not a navigable stream and that the state had no authority to issue the oil and gas leases.

The decision was appealed to the Supreme Court in the name of Carl J. Parker who had succeeded Morely as revenue commissioner by the time the suits were filed and who has since been succeeded by Horace E. Thompson.

O. T. Ward, attorney for the Revenue Department, said that whether the state receives tens of thousands of dollars or possibly hundreds of thousands of dollars in royalties will depend on the Supreme Court's decision in the case.

If the Court now in its summer recess, should reverse the chancery and hold that the state has control over the disputed lands, the State would receive a one-eighth share of the price of all oil produced.

Ward said he had no idea what the amount in money might be each year but that three or four producing wells already had been drilled on the disputed acreage.

Louisiana Raps Gas Price Increase

BATON ROUGE, La. (UP) — A special session of the Louisiana Legislature resolved to study the recent "excessive, unfair and unreasonable" increases in gasoline prices.

The Senate concurrent resolution hit a few snags in its passage through the upper house but slipped unanimously through the House.

Eight senators opposed the measure, contending they were "fooling with something with which we have no business" and "interfering with free enterprise."

The resolution charged that "the gasoline companies have now sought to again saddle the people of our state with an excessive, unreasonable and unfair increase in the cost of gasoline."

Civic Group to Meet Tonight

All Around the Town

Downtown comment on the council's action in levying a fine on everyone for parking meter violations brought this from a couple of interested persons . . . what if our out-of-town visitors think I personally don't believe it will create anything but ill will for out-of-city shoppers or tourists to be fined . . . the original idea of meters was to create more parking space but now it seems this has been abandoned and additional revenue is the big interest even though the meters are paid for and the city gets all the revenue which amounts to more than $400 weekly . . . other cities give out courtesy cards to out-of-towners and rural folks and this leaves a good feeling . . . I'm just afraid it will drive off business, was the comment, and we surely need it right now.

Fulton Man Is Injured in Truck Accident

Lee R. Wilson, 45, Fulton, was in serious condition in a Texarkana hospital today following a two-truck collision on Highway 67. He suffered a badly mangled arm.

State Trooper Charles Boyd reported the pickup driven by Wilson and a transport driven by D. H. Holder of St. Louis, sideswiped with the smaller vehicle leaving the highway and crashing into a ditch. The driver of the transport was not injured.

Experts Feel Decision Is Up to Ike

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

WASHINGTON (UP) — Congressional experts said today President Eisenhower can publish the essential facts of life or death in the atomic age whenever he concludes the time has come to do so.

Mr. Eisenhower said at his news conference yesterday that he thinks that time has come. He added, however, that certain parts of the Atomic Energy Act, which he said are outmoded, must first be changed.

Chairman W. Sterling Cole (R-NV) of the House Senate Atomic Energy Commission disagreed. He said the law makes the Atomic Energy Commission, the President approving, maybe the judge of what atomic facts may be made public "without adversely affecting the common defense and security."

Iran Reported Ready to Sign Russian Pact

TEHRAN, Iran (UP) — Tehran newspapers speculated today that a non-aggression pact with the Soviet Union may be in the offing.

They based their speculation on reports that Premier Mohammad Mossadegh and the Kremlin are preparing to negotiate Iran's long-standing border and financial claims against her big Communist neighbor.

The newspaper Etelaat, Iran's largest, said a Soviet mission may come to Tehran for negotiations and that American officials are watching developments with anxiety.

The reports coincided with a disclosure by Iranian sources that President Eisenhower has written Mossadegh he can expect no large-scale American aid from the U. S. until the Premier settles his oil dispute with Britain.

Eisenhower also was reported as telling the aged Premier the U. S. is disturbed by the freedom allowed Communist activity in Iran, presumably a reference to the infiltration of members of the Red Tudeh party into key government departments.

To Recommend Drouth Help Immediately

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Forty-seven Arkansas counties, most of them in the north and west sections of the state, were recommended today for emergency drought help from the federal government.

The help will be in the form of feed at below-cost prices and will be on a temporary basis under President Eisenhower's recently-declared emergency program.

Arkansas farm leaders who made the recommendations said East Arkansas Delta counties were not included because they primarily need credit not livestock feed.

The recommendations were made by the Arkansas Agricultural Mobilization Committee, composed of federal officials and leading state farmers.

The counties which must be certified for relief in Washington are:

Marion, Baxter, Polk, Miller, Izard, Yell, Scott, Madison, Dallas, Benton, Howard, Sebastian, Crawford, Franklin, Fulton, Stone, Garland, Boone, Searcy, Newton, Sevier, Little Rock, Sharp, Hot Spring, Calhoun, Bradley, Cleveland, Grant, Carroll, Perry, Claiborne, Logan, Saline, Ouchita, Clark, Montgomery, Pike, Hempstead, Pope, Johnson, Conway, Mulkey, Pulaski, Van Buren, White, Independence and Washington.

The Mobilization Committee said any counties not included on the list "which feel they ought to be included" should contact the group immediately.

The Committee made its selection as scattered rains had all but ended the drought in the western two-thirds of the state.

The feedstuffs for drought-tormented livestock will be sold for the following prices:

Cottonseed pellets and meal, $35 a ton; corn, 1 a bushel; wheat $1.10 a bushel; oats 60 cents a bushel.

Cattlemen to Ask Price Support

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — Grim cattlemen from five states gripped by a long and bitter drought met today in this historic big ranch country to ask for federal price support on cattle.

Some stockmen, once bitter foes of any government control, criticized officers of the big Cattle Growers' Association who still shy away from federal aid and this week decided to break away and fight to get price supports for the product.

While the cattlemen who came here have what they think is a solution to their problems, the governors of Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma are to meet in Amarillo, Tex., tomorrow with their top agricultural officials. They'll try to find the way they can best aid farmers and ranchers.

President Eisenhower declared portions of the five states disaster areas and set up an eight million dollar emergency fund for ranchers. Sen. Johnson (D-Tex.) Senate minority leader, claims the fund is inadequate.

Senate debate raged yesterday on a multimillion-dollar measure to extend federal drought aid. Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.) drew the wrath of Sen. Alken (R-Vt.) by asking that Congress order Secretary of Agriculture Benson to buy live beef cattle at 90 per cent of parity.

Kerr charged cattlemen's total losses under the Republican administration was equal to more than $100 million.

Know Your Own Home Is Ike's Theory

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower seems to be a firm believer in the there's-nothing-like-home-in-the-world theory of public relations, both locally and world-wide.

He's been practicing it himself at home since he entered the White House. Even if he wanted to go abroad, there's been too busy here to go. He's been sending some of his closest to him.

President Nixon is the latest test to get his marching papers. He'll leave in the fall for the Far East and South Asia.

Others who preceded him as good will ambassadors were Secretary of State Dulles, Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen, and the President's youngest brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower. Eisenhower showed how much stock he put in the personal acquaintance idea almost from the start of his presidency when he began inviting members of the Congress to White House breakfasts.

These were in addition to the regular and frequent conferences with Republican leaders in the House and Senate for getting his programs through Congress.

Then he began holding stag dinners in the White House for men distinguished in various fields of American life, like business, labor, politics, religion, publishing.

These groups in batches of a dozen or so put their feet under the White House table at the same time.

Mrs. Eddington's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Walker.

Miss Carolyn Locke of Magnolia is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Berry and Minella.

DOROTHY DIX

A Mistake of Yesteryear

Dear Miss Dix: Would you comment upon the problem of parents who have for 20 years discouraged the celebrations of wedding anniversaries because their son arrived six months after marriage. Policy has been to give correct date but advance it to the previous year. However, we are very poor lads time, if they hadn't met before, they became acquainted there, with one another and the President.

Months ago Eisenhower sent Dulles and Stassen on a fast tour of the West European capitals where they met the heads of countries face build up good will.

They were hardly home before they left on the same kind of mission to the Near East and Southern Asia. The President was reported pleased with what they told him when they returned.

Latin America couldn't be overlooked, so Eisenhower sent his associates, South America, where he is now, affirmed yesterday the White House announced the news about Nixon.

The vice president and his wife, accompanied by State Department officials, will go to the Orient, perhaps in October. As the White House announcement described it:

"The purpose... to become acquainted with the leaders of the countries visited to hear their views, to gain first-hand impressions, to carry the sincere greetings of the people of the United States... and the personal greetings of the President."

No doubt the reports brought back by those personal ambassadors—on the problems, attitudes, and expectations of the countries visited—should be invaluable to Eisenhower in shaping his foreign policies.

Among people of the countries visited cannot but be impressed by the effort Eisenhower is making to get to know them and the interest he is showing in them. These expeditions can hardly make enemies and should make friends.

The Russians are probably concerned about it, just as the Communists sent their foreign Minister Molotov around the world to have private talks with heads of state everywhere.

I—the long run, though, since these heads of state are practical men, this country will be judged by what it does for them or about them, more than by pleasant conversations.

A British oceanographic ship has determined that the Mariana Trench, southwest of Guam, is 35,650 feet deep.

Thousands of new nebulae have been discovered in a sky survey being conducted at Mt. Palomar, Calif.

and vague answers have been too this Silver anniversary came while son was away in service, which was good. Pa and Ma are two old lovebirds now, but I'm afraid there was much contention which left some psychological scars on the boy who is now married and a father himself.

Answer: I wish space permitted the full publication of your interesting letter, and a more complete answer to it. Your name and address would have brought a personal reply. It would be interesting to get the comments of other parents who have been through a similar situation and see how they worked out the problem. Any letters along this line, anonymous or not, will be greatly appreciated. Most such letters are handled by the "promoters" for an explanation, but when both occur as close as six months to the wedding date, this idea isn't quite feasible.

Mistake of Bygone Years

Whether children should ever be set straight on the problem is something that must be handled differently in each individual case. Some youngsters are so sensitive to any thing at their parents that their reaction to the truth would be a strong antidote to one or both parents. Others, more realistically adjusted to life, can accept the situation on its true basis, that a mistake was unfortunately made, and its effects have long since been absorbed into natural love and understanding. Your own road would doubtless be much relieved if you soon knew all the facts, and at this late date he should be able to face them. Only you can judge his emotional standards; if he is a supersensitive adult, better let the dates stand as they are. If he is a balanced adult, let him know all the facts involved; those stated here as well as the others contained in your letter. The 30 years you devoted parents certainly should have erased your early mistake.

Dear Miss Dix: What time should a 16-year-old boy be in on school nights? If he is looking for a job, what should his allowance be?

Answer: A boy in school should not date during the week, unless a special occasion arises. Simple mathematics will show why. He should have time hours sleep, and high-school homework requires an average of two hours a night. On that schedule, there isn't much time for mid-week outings.

Your second question is dependent for its answer on personal and family circumstances. No outsider can quote a definite allowance sum. The matter should be discussed between you and your parents, and I'm sure a satisfactory answer will result.

Dear Miss Dix: I am the widowed mother of four children, with only the youngest still home with me. For the past year I have been engaged to a fine man my own age, who protests his love for me one day, then never mentions marriage for weeks. How can I make him set a wedding day?

Answer: Your need for companionship has led you into a situation with very little chance of a happy solution. It's extremely doubtful if the man really loves you. The only way to test him is to let him know you want to be married without further delay.

Dear Miss Dix, I am 24 years old, and have known a young man six years my senior for the past two years. We both date others occasionally, as we have no definite understanding. We enjoy each other's company, and his actions indicate that he cares for me; but I feel that I am entitled to know exactly where I stand. Should I insist on knowing, as I intend to do, or should I let him know that I know you want to be married without further delay.

Answer: Yours is not a question of propriety as much as expediency. Any girl has a right to know in what direction a friendship is leading her. I warn you, though, the young man is quite likely to resent your attempt to control the situation.

State Dept. Completes Book Purge

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
WASHINGTON (AP)—Official word today to U. S. overseas libraries that some books by Communist authors can be used just about completes the circle of State Department positions in the book purge controversy.

The new policy statement, approved by Secretary of State Dulles, was made public last night by Dr. Robert L. Johnson, retiring head of the International Information Administration (IIA), the State Department agency which operates the 189 libraries in 63 countries.

The statement puts State Department policy back to about where it was last February, when Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) began denouncing the libraries' use of books by Communists or pro-Communists.

Its release came a few hours after President Eisenhower told his news conference the State Department and the Information Agency were taking a new look at the whole matter. Its net effect seemed to bring their policies closer to Eisenhower's "Don't join the book burners" advice to Dartmouth College's graduating class last month.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders make a second try today at winning approval of a multimillion-dollar program of emergency loans and aid for drought-stricken farmers and ranchers.

Angry arguments over government buying of live cattle led to a heated political exchange among nearly six hours of debate yesterday.

Pending was a proposal by Sen. Griswold (R-Neb.) to require Secretary of Agriculture Benson to buy up cows and pay farmers to have their cows sprayed to prevent them from having calves.

Griswold's contention is there are too many cattle and that a government buying program would cut the livestock population and push beef prices upward.

Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.) decided Griswold's proposal as "birth control" for cows, and Sen. Tobey (R-N.H.) shouted: "What nonsense! Don't spray the cows, castrate the bulls!"

Griswold's proposal was offered as a substitute for a demand by Kerr that Benson be ordered by Congress to support beef cattle prices at high levels.

Senators Seek Time to Bring Rhee Around

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican senators sought today to gain time for more U. S. discussions with South Korean President Syngman Rhee by proposing that Red China be made a party to any Korean truce.

Senators Knowland (R-Calif.) and H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) suggested that new efforts be made to bring the Peking regime officially into any armistice signing.

United Nations negotiations to date have been conducted with the North Koreans.

Knowland, who has supported Rhee's demands for prompt unification of Korea, told the Senate yesterday that the Chinese Communists, while supplying men and guns to the North Koreans, would not guarantee any truce that was signed.

Knowland, the acting Senate Republican leader, late yesterday attended a top-level White House conference at which instructions reportedly were prepared for Gen. Mark Clark, U. S. Far East commander.

To meeting was called to consider the Communists' reply to Clark that they are ready to negotiate final details of an armistice. Clark called on Rhee late last night in Seoul.

Others who met with President Eisenhower, besides Knowland, were Secretary of State Dulles, Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith, Secretary of Defense Wilson and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff.

Only Ten Years Ago American Troops Landed in Sicily — But What About Pork Chop Ridge?

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Our anniversary often creep upon us like sneak thieves in the night, and stifle us.

Scores of thousands of American veterans, grayer and punchier now, will glance at a calendar this week, blink in surprise, and think: "Why, it's 10 years since we went into Sicily."

So long already! And yet as they look back, the years will fall away like moments. And, like a dream in technicolor, they will see themselves as they were then. . . . younger. . . . stronger. . . . trudging through swirling white dust clouds to a fast, clean, well-fought victory.

And if two or more of them get together, they will wear out the night — and the patience of their wives — recalling the little things about war that never get in the history books but live forever in soldiers' minds:

"You know there never was dust like that Sicily dust. I still cough every time I think of it."

"Yeah, I was so thirsty once I crawled out into a field to get some watermelons and got my helmet creased by a sniper on the way back. I was plenty dumb to do it, but remember how those watermelons tasted?"

"Yep, and remember how old Patton lost his head and slapped a private?"

"Sure do. I thought he was a real S.O.B. at the time. But you know later I was with his Third Army in France, and I got to think he was abhella fine guy — for a general. He was all man — that one."

And Patton was all man, one who might miff a play but never lost a ball game. The errors he made were made while he was on his feet — trying to win. Defeat never was in his mind. He could conceive of nothing but victory.

The conquest of Sicily was superbly executed in 38 days by Gen. Patton's Seventh Army and Field Marshal Montgomery's British Eighth Army. It was the first campaign by Americans organized as an army — we had only a corps in Tunisia — and they never lost the taste of success gained there, or forgot the lessons learned. The overall price was cheap.

I like to look back at Sicily because it was there I got to know well three men I hold, for their special qualities a lifelong respect: Gen. Patton, for stubborn courage; Gen. Bradley, for Gibraltar integrity; Ernie Pyle, for human understanding.

I remember, as we sailed toward Sicily, there was a brief ceremony at which Patton's Seventh Army flag — his first — was unfurled, and there was the fire of pride in his eyes. It was to him, not ashup, that he stood upon that peak of glory.

I remember later, visiting him ashore, and finding him in a towering rage. He held up an army poster, showing a soldier with an intruding foot, that warned in big letters: "Did a Die."

"That is the way to get soldiers killed," Patton cried angrily in his high shrill voice. "Once they dig in these freeze — and then you have to go up and kick them out of their foxholes and get them moving again."

Patton always held an army suffers fewer casualties rolling forward in attack than if it halts and digs in.

I never saw "Georgie" Patton clap anybody, but in a hospital in Palermo I saw him honor a young medic who had severed his own shattered arm, and then crawled on to rescue another wounded soldier.

"I have pinned medals on many brave men," Patton told the boys, "but none braver than you."

Then, close to tears, he wheeled and stomped out. Georgie was a real sentimentalist about men hurt under his command. In Tunisia he wept openly at the news of the death in combat of his young aide.

On the morning of Aug. 17, he walked with an infantry patrol into Messina, the end of the line in Sicily. Montgomery's crestfallen tankers rolled in two hours later amid Yank cries of:

"Where you tourists been?"

Gen. Patton rode in himself soon after, German gunners, firing from across the Messina straits, tried to destroy his motorcade but didn't. Patton. He was still grinning when he rode back out of town. All along he had been racing to beat Montgomery into Messina, and was proud his troops had reached there first — and on foot, at that.

Only 10 years ago? Wonder what's doing on Pork Chop Ridge in Korea?

Beauties From Universe Enter Contest

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP)—Beauty by the planeboard arrived here today as pretty girls from all over the world came to display their charms in the second annual Miss Universe beauty pageant.

Scheduled to arrive today to compete for prizes and movie contracts were 27 contestants judged the most beautiful in 27 countries. There were more than 80 girls in all.

The beauty pageant officially begins Saturday with a welcoming dinner at Municipal auditorium.

Miss Universe will be selected next Thursday, with Miss U.S.A. competing against the foreign beauties.

The finalists will be judged in bathing suits, evening gowns and costumes of their native lands — but no tape measures will be used in the judging.

As one contest official said: "The old concept of tape-measured comparisons has been discarded for the Miss Universe pageant."

The pageant's opening performance will be held Tuesday when the girls parade in native costume. Immediately following this, the American girls will compete for the crown of Miss U.S.A., which carried with it a motion picture contract with Universal — International studios and a $2,400 sports convertible.

Winner of the big title, Miss Universe, will receive a $3,200 sports racer along with her movie contract.

Oscar Meinhardt, executive producer of the 14-day spectacle, said four runners up also will receive movie contracts.

Miss Universe will be crowned at a coronation ball July 12, Mexico, Panama, Venezuela, Peru, France, Uruguay, Greece, Switzerland, Austria, South Africa, Norway, Denmark, Germany, Sweden, Finland, Canada, Alaska, England, Belgium, Italy, Puerto Rico, Japan, Turkey, Australia, The Philippines, Hawaii and the 48 states were represented.

GOPs Seek to Admit Refugees

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another attempt to pass legislation to try out of the Senate Judiciary Committee an administration bill to admit 240,000 refugees and other immigrants to the U.S.

In advance of the close-door session, supporters of the bill said prolonged discussion yesterday prevented any action.

Sen. Hendrickson (R-N.J.) said he was inclined to move that the bill be placed on the calendar for the next session, but he was not sure he could get the necessary votes.

Some of the questions asked at yesterday's closed session, he said, "would lead one to think that there might be delaying tactics" on the part of opponents of the legislation.

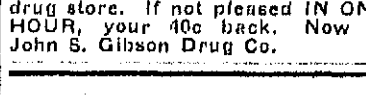

Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) dismissed as "nonsense" any talk that opponents of the measure were waging a filibuster against it.

A Definite Stand Could End Squabble

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, D. C. — If the State Department would finally take a stand, in unmistakable language, on what is the purpose of the U. S. overseas libraries, some of the confusion about book purging might end.

This country has almost 200 libraries, overseas, which perhaps 100,000 books on their shelves, run by the International Information Administration (IIA), which is part of the State Department.

Months ago Sen. McCarthy charged 30,000 of these books were by Communists or pro-Communists and demanded their removal. The State Department began to do so.

Altogether it issued at least 10 directives to its overseas librarians on what books to remove and how to judge a book as Communist or pro-Communist. A number of books were removed from the shelves. A very few were burned.

News of the burning inflamed a storm in this country. The American Library Association upheld the "freedom to read." President Eisenhower contributed no charity in the confusion.

On June 14 at Dartmouth College, he said: "Don't let the book burners." Some people interpreted this as a dig at McCarthy but if Eisenhower had any such thought in mind he certainly didn't mention the senator.

Actually, the only book burners were the librarians, carrying out orders from the State Department. If Eisenhower didn't like what they did he could have fired them or their superiors who gave the orders.

Shortly afterwards, at a news conference, he said it would be silly for the government to spread books during its overthrow, as for burning any such books, he said the State Department could suit itself.

If the State Department, or IIA, simply contents itself in its directives with new guidance on what books to remove it will be avoided the main issue and the main question.

Just what is the purpose of these overseas libraries? As they, basically, meant to be propaganda agencies of the U. S. government? Or are they meant to be libraries in the highest sense of the word, which might be defined this way:

A place where a man can find on the open shelves the whole range of mankind's thinking — the hateful idea as well as the benevolent; the radical and revolutionary and conservative; the authorita-

GETS MEASLY DEAL.—Shed a tear for Morton Shubert, 23, of Beachwood, Ohio, who came down with three-day measles the day before his wedding. He got married all right, but didn't get to kiss his bride, the former Jo Ann Friedman, of Shaker Heights, Ohio. Shubert, his bride, their parents and his brother, Norman, gathered in the Shubert home for the marriage ceremony. "It took just five minutes," Shubert said. "I got up out of bed, put on my tuxedo, I went downstairs and I hear they had a fine time. I went back upstairs, took off my tuxedo and went back to bed." He said he can do now he look at his bride's picture and talk to her on the telephone.

rian and the democratic, one idea lined up against another — and exacted his right as a free man to the American way of life and further U. S. interests abroad.

But a library set up to depict the American way of life and further U. S. interests abroad brings a different kind of intellectual tyranny or cowardice. But no one is serious by suggesting or pretending that the U. S. overseas libraries are meant to be libraries in that highest sense.

One section of the 1948 law creating the information service and the libraries says that the purpose of the service is to:

"Disseminate abroad information about the United States, its people and policies promulgated by the Congress, the President, the secretary of state and other responsible officials of the government having to do with matters affecting foreign affairs."

That puts them in the class of special-purpose libraries. Propaganda books would not have a place in a library set up to spread policies laid down by Congress or the President.

Eisenhower himself has emphasized the overseas libraries are special-purpose libraries. This, he said, restricts the election of books to those which depict the American way of life and further U. S. interests abroad.

Removal of books because of their content or authorship from that kind of a library would be an act of intellectual tyranny or cowardice. But no one is serious by suggesting or pretending that the U. S. overseas libraries are meant to be libraries in that highest sense.

Fair Enough

WASHINGTON — Developments in the New York majority illustrate the political degeneration of the United States.

The socialistic parasite known as the Liberal Party has nominated Rudolph Halley, the incumbent president of the city council, Halley occurred overnight like a fungus on a stump, in connection with the Kefauver circus. He is a con man and a shakedown artist and these qualities have created the publicity which suffices as a substitute for legitimate qualifications. The Liberal Party was formerly a part of the now decadent Labor party of La Guardia and Marcantonio. This was, and remains, a Communist front. The "liberal" vote is uncertain but small. It was licked in 1930 when it backed Judge Ferdinand Pecora against Mayor LaGuardia who ran as an independent against Tammany. The "liberal" vote is Tammany that one, having no principles.

Dubinsky and Alex Rose, president of the Garment Workers and the hat-cop unions, respectively, are "vice-chairmen" of the Liberal Party. They nominated Halley at a convention in a hotel. About the same time, Harry Truman conferred with Dubinsky and Rose in the Waldorf Tower, the residence of Herbert Hoover, who is in a matter of speaking, way out of the Republicans. It is also the political lair of Arthur J. Goldsmith, who covertly collects money from eastern rich men and shuffles it into states of small political parties to swing senatorial elections so that these eastern rich men may have more senators voting their way than the Constitution intended they should.

One of Goldsmith's letterhead political societies sent money into Tennessee to defeat Carroll Reece, former Republican national chairman, in a contest with Kefauver. Nevertheless, he, elected on the Republican ticket, signed a mysterious "testimonial" for Goldsmith and he recently entertained, at one of his stag dinners in the White House, Lessing Rosenwald, from Cincinnati and Washington were present at the operation upon the Ohio Republican.

Taft, the Senate majority leader, had been treated previously in hospitals at Cincinnati and Washington.

Police Round Up Bookmaker in New York

NEW YORK — Police worked around the clock today booking hundreds of alleged policy-bookmakers ring members rounded up by the sear in the city's biggest attack on gambling in years.

More than 200 plainclothes police along with detectives from the Manhattan district attorney's office brought in 72 persons yesterday in lightning-like raids at 103 different locations.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said one purpose of the sweep was "to smash an organized policy racket operating in the metropolitan area."

Many of those arrested were booked on various gambling charges.

The raids started in an aura of mystery with a city-wide police order mobilizing 2,500 detectives and plain-clothes-men.

The police in teams of two, with instructions in sealed brown manila envelopes, fanned out from headquarters into areas in which they normally did not work, to avoid being recognized.

Some were garbed in short sleeve shirts, others in zoot suits. They used subways, buses and private automobiles.

Hogan gave these details on the crackdown:

A three-month investigation had led to places in Manhattan, Brooklyn, Queens, Nassau County, Yorkers White Plains and New Rochelle N. Y., and across the Hudson in New Jersey—suspected of being headquarters for bookmakers and policy slip operators.

Many of these places obtained information from Murray Zucker who, with his wife, gave $6,000 to Goldsmith's society the year it sent the money to lick Reece.

Eisenhower seems a sheepish about his certificate of good citizenship for Goldsmith and about his hospitality to Rosenwald. That is to say his secretariat made a great mystery of the "testimonial," refusing to tell a consistent, truthful story, and Jim Maguire, the White House press secretary, told the press covers it was nobody's business whom he had to dinner.

Dubinsky, who now plans with Truman for 1934, has been one of the house-pets for years. When he was a commander of the Allied powers in the dawn of his and Truman's awakening from their hope-dream's fantasy of Russian amity, he found Dubinsky's bearing into domestic European politics both in person, on the spot, with $50,000 from the union's treasury, and from a distance, through the two notorious anti-Kremlin Marxian communists Jay Lovestone and Irving Brown. Meanwhile, the Central Intelligence Agency has poured millions of our taxes into political projects in Europe managed by these Communist agents of Dubinsky.

Carmel Offit, late secretary to William C. Bullitt, an early strident advocate of recognition of Soviet Russia but a tardy convert to reality, has said the amount which the CIA put at the disposal of Dubinsky's union and the AP of L for illicit political activity in Europe was a little less than $3,000,000. Allen Dulles, the chief of the CIA holds that the American people have no right to know anything about its activities or disbursements.

Offit once was pinched in Lafayette Park, across from the White House, on a charge of disorderly conduct. The "particulars" alleged that he had made indecent proposals to a cop. He forfeited his $25 security. Both he and Bullitt indicated that Bullitt would be glad to give further information bearing on homosexuality in the State Department. But Bullitt disappeared when this invitation was pursued and I have been unable to catch up with him since.

Governor Tom Dewey, an Eisenhower Republican, has lost the Dubinsky line in recent years, in a flirtation for that problematical vote of a political subsidiary of a union with $168 million in its treasury. Nevertheless, Dubinsky and Rose turned down a coalition with the Republicans in nominating Halley for mayor. They did this because Dewey favored increases in rent and in subway and bus fares. The alternative to such increases is further inflation, depreciation of government bonds and eventual economic dissolution. That is the ideal Marxian ultimate, but as John T. Flynn pointed out in his renowned tract "The Road Ahead," the gradual Marxists, or Fabians, do not let the ultimate enter their discussions.

The Garment Workers' union now has the dress industry in its power. The industry is a captive province of the union. Business men in the industry have worked primarily for and by sufferance of the union, living on the leanings after the union has taken all the traffic will bear.

The leading candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor in New York is Jacob Javits, a congressman. He has declared principles almost wholly consist with Roosevelt's program.

This disintegration, strikingly like the falling apart of France, is the direct consequence of a pathetic effort of weak Republicans to accommodate all degrees of anti-Republicans from Eisenhower's Texas Democrats to Dubinsky's bloodthirsty Reds who broke with Stalin but haven't been able to show where they ever broke with communism per se.
